

It has been Science Week in school this week and the children have taken part in a range of activities relating to the theme of time. On Thursday, the children took part in a Science Lego workshop related to the theme of time. The children really enjoyed the building activity!

We have been fortunate enough to replace two of our electronic whiteboards within school after they stopped working. A huge thankyou to FOBS for funding one of the boards – these new boards have touchscreen functionality which the other boards didn't have and are also larger and more visible- they will transform teaching within these classes!

Head of School

British Science Week

In recognition of British Science Week and learning about 'time', yesterday we held Lego workshops for each class.

Children worked to construct various events in history. This involved creating toys through time, creating Viking ships, building the Parthenon from Ancient Greece, Mayan temples and Ancient Egyptian pyramids. They also made some brilliant self-portraits out of Lego.

The children had a wonderful time building!
